Early in the August, 1980, Chinese government chose Shenzhen city as the first special economic zone, and Shenzhen has developed into an international city from a small town in the past 20 years. Shenzhen, as the symbolization of China's reform and opening up for granted, has also played a key role in the economy construction and social development in China.

With 16 million population, Futian District is the central part of Shenzhen city in terms of politics, economy and culture. To load the safe community building in Shenzhen city, even in Guangdong Province, the aim is to become the member of WHO safe community following the principle of advancement gradually, and then extending to the whole city in the next three to five years.

The safe community will be promoted in accordance with WHO guidelines on safe communities. Mr. Li Ping, director of Futian District, said that Futian district represented spirit of Chinese special Economic Zone, the achievement of Chinese innovation and modernization. It is necessary for Futian district to build safe community following higher standards to realize the city internationalization. So the safe community committee was constituted with work groups for the safe community building. The work groups are composed of safety training, social stability, fire control, home safety, health, work safety, environmental safety, traffic safety, campus safety, injury supervision and expert consulting, and etc.

The training classes for safe community were held twice and the program of safe community building was established since the ceremony. Meanwhile some experts will be invited to teach them in injury monitoring and supervision in order to solve the problems during the injury prevention and safety promotion.
